Because the Blackwood Cardigan is designed to be worn open, finished garment measurements for the bust, waist, and hips are not included. The garment has an overall ease of 1/2", and is intended to fit quite close to the body from shoulder to hip and then fall straight down.

The Blackwood Cardigan sleeves are designed to be long and end at the mid-hand. This creates a bunching effect at the wrist. They are ideal for layering under jackets and other sweaters, and perfect for pulling over your hands when you are cold!
